Forty Men Are Trapped

NEW CASTLE, ENGLAND, Sept. 5.—(By A. P.)—Forty men were entombed by an explosion in a coal pit at White Haven this morning, the Evening Chronicle states. The bodies of ten workers are reported to have been recovered.

Plan Lid For Bible Curses

PORTLAND, OREGON, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—If members of the commission on prayer book revision have their views accepted, Episcopalians rarely will have read to them from the Scriptural passages that call for dire vengeance or a curse upon enemies of the right.

This was indicated today in statements by Dr. Charles L. Slattery, rector of Grace Church, New York, who has been selected to present the report to the house of deputies of the Episcopal Church which opens this week.

"The whole attempt of the commission," he said, "is that of bringing the prayer book into accord with the best truth and reality we know."

Typical verses of the Psalter which the revisionists think may well be neglected are such as these:

"Let their eyes be blinded, that they see not; and ever bow down their backs."

"Pour out thine indignation upon them, and let them fall from one wickedness into another."

Flirting Soldier Caught By Slugging He Vamp

HIGHLAND FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Corporal Albert Hoff, of West Point, will take a look under the veil when he offers to escort a girl home to the future if he has learned anything from his experience with Police Chief Fred Christoff here.

Christoff told Judge Nelson that he had received complaints from women who said they had been accosted by a soldier on the streets here, Ordinary methods of scolding failed, and Christoff then donned the latest in girls' clothes and took a stroll.

Hoff came up and asked to escort him home, Christoff told the judge and continued his advances even after the police official said he was married and had three children.

"After that he put his arm around my waist," said the chief, "and then I hung one on his jaw and brought him in."

The judge held Hoff in $1,000 bail for trial.

Ministers Condemn Strikes

DAYTON, O., Sept. 5.—Stating that the United States government still sits supreme and must continue to do so over the councils of labor agitators, or the confabs of capitalists, the West Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, today went on record as condemning the present coal and railroad strikes.

In addition to calling a strike "a wasteful and fruitless proceeding," the conference went on record as condemning any thought about or attempt to break the law, and especially that which has to do with the national prohibition amendment.

Further, the ministers declared, there was a wholesome need for the American voter to be emancipated from the "travesty of statesmanship falsely called partisan politics."

NEW TREATY WITH PANAMA IS SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Abrogation of the present treaty arrangement with Panama which he said was intended to operate only during the construction of the Panama canal and the negotiation of a new treaty with that government was recommended to congress today by President Harding.

With a communication to Speaker Gillett, setting forth his views and declaring that the change was desired by the government of Panama, the president transmitted a letter from acting Secretary Phillips, of the state department, setting forth that the agreement, formulated by Secretary of War Taft in 1904, was to serve as a modus operandi during the period of canal construction.

Later it was ratified in the Panama canal act. The agreement, Mr. Phillips said, no longer provides "an adequate basis for adjustment of questions arising out of the relations between the canal zone authorities and the government of Panama and it is the opinion of this department and I am informed of the war department also, that the agreement should be replaced by a more permanent arrangement."

DEBACLE FACES ARMY OF GREECE

LONDON, Sept. 5.—(By The Associated Press)—General opinion in well informed quarters in London today was that the disaster to the Greek Army in Asia Minor was complete. There seemed little prospect that anything could now save it from a total debacle.

The Greek government has appealed to the powers to obtain an armistice with the Turkish nationalists who have virtually driven the Greeks from the battle field and as a result of interchanges among the chancelleries at London, Paris and Rome instructions have been sent to the allied high commissioners of the three powers in Constantinople to discuss joint measures for bringing about a suspension of hostilities.

KAISER IS TO WED

LONDON, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The former German Kaiser is to wed again and his intended bride is the Princess Hermine of Reuss, 34 year-old widow, according to a report quoted by the Daily Mail's Berlin correspondent.

The engagement, he adds, will not be announced until after the anniversary of the late Ex-Kaiser's birthday, October 22.

The Times of London on August 25, said that the former Emperor was betrothed to the widow of a German aristocrat almost of royal rank.

Princess Hermine of Reuss, is the widow of Prince Jean of Schonach-Carolath, who died in April, 1920. She was born December 17, 1887, and is the mother of five children, the eldest of whom is 14. She owns a large estate at Saurabro, Silesia.

BONUS BILL MUST WAIT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—By a vote of 5 to 3, senate and house conferees refused today to sidetrack the administration bill for the soldiers' bonus measure.

Senators McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, and Simmons, North Carolina, and Walsh, Massachusetts, Democrats, voted to take up the bonus immediately, but opposing them were Senators Smoot, Utah, Republican, and Representatives Fordney, Michigan; Longworth, Ohio, and Green, Iowa, Republicans, and Garner, Texas, Democrat. Senators McLean, Connecticut, Republican, and Representative Collier, Democrat, Mississippi, the other two conferees were absent.

Today's meeting was the first to which the Democratic conferees had been invited since work on the bill was begun two weeks ago. They were excluded after the vote and the others went ahead with the rewriting of the bill. Good progress in that direction was reported and Chairman McCumber of the senate managers believed the task would be finished by the end of this week or early in the next week.

Chairman Fordney of the house managers led the opposition to immediate consideration of the bonus bill. He argued that the tariff already had been nearly three years in the making and that it should not be laid aside. Urging quick action on the bonus, Chairman McCumber argued that an agreement on this measure probably could be reached within a few hours and called attention to the fact that the bonus legislation had been pending a year longer than had the tariff.

Believe Miners Are Alive

JACKSON, CALIF., Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Miners entombed in the Argonaut gold mine since a week ago last Sunday night signalled twice last night to the rescue crews who are tunnelling from the Kennedy mine toward the Argonaut shaft. Robert Lightner, one of the miners working with the rescue crews, said today.

46 men entombed in the Argonaut gold mine, today were penetrating what is known as the "old shaft" of the adjoining Kennedy gold mine. Working on the 3,600 foot level, this "old shaft," 350 feet long, leads to the 75 feet of quartz which separates them from the men who were imprisoned by the Argonaut fire August 27.

Listing of the materials carried into the Argonaut by the 46 miners, revealed today that it would be entirely possible for them to have caused the five explosions which workers in the Kennedy mine reported hearing when the roar of their own blasts had died away. It was the conviction of many of the rescue workers that at least some of the entombed men were alive and would be saved.

Miners on the job believe that the muck in the "old shaft" can be cleared out today and that the remaining 75 feet of quartz can be cut through by Wednesday, a day earlier than it was expected the buried 46 could be reached.

SHOPMEN GO BACK

KENTON, O., Sept. 5.—Following an ultimatum of the railroad company announcing that it would bring in 200 repairmen to take the places of striking shopmen, approximately 140 shop workers returned to work in the T. and O. C. shops here today. The men went back to work at the wage scale in effect before the strike was called.

Bishop Fallows' death, a shock to the religious world, especially, but a cause of general sorrow, was unexpected in spite of his advanced age. He was approaching his eighty-seventh year. The bishop fell ill of pneumonia last winter and to that was attributed the beginning of his fatal illness. Last spring he went to Lower California and he was believed to have escaped further ravages of the disease. He did not return to Chicago until August 14.

The apartment she will occupy is just across the street from the home of her mother, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, from whom she has been estranged since the divorce was obtained by Mrs. McCormick upon charges of desertion. Miss McCormick, who is known to her Gold Coast friends as "the poor little rich girl," has expressed her desire to become a grand opera star and to achieve success through her own efforts alone and without the assistance of her family's wealth.

MOVE MADE TO PROTECT PUBLIC SAYS GOVERNOR

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Governor Davis today announced that he would summon the state legislature into extraordinary session Monday, Sept. 11, for the direct purpose of enacting legislation that will make it "possible to invoke the state's full powers in assuring the public a sufficient supply of fuel at a fair price."

Seek Cheaper Coal

Announcement of the governor's contemplated action followed refusal last week of coal operators to agree to a schedule of prices for coal put forward by the state, they demanding a minimum of $5.50 per ton at the mines. The state proposed prices ranging from $3.75 to $4.50 a ton.

Before announcing his intention to summon the legislature into special session the chief executive had obtained from State Attorney General Price an opinion holding that though the state now is without statutory authority to fix prices of coal, the power is vested in the constitution and that the legislature may enact necessary laws to carry that constitutional authority into effect.

Simultaneous with announcing his intention to summon the legislature, the governor announced that he has formally requested the attorney general to prepare the necessary bills to be offered as soon as the assembly convenes.

"We intend to use every means that is legally available to obviate the threatened taking advantage by some coal interests of the people of the state, by charging them 'all the market will bear' for their fuel needs," Governor Davis' statement said.

Will Enforce Law

The chief executive said, however, that he hoped the mere enactment of laws to fix prices would have the effect on coal operators of causing them to charge fair prices, but that should it not, then he would enforce the laws to their fullest extent. "I have good reason to believe that some producers have never intended to exact more than a fair price," the governor said.

Governor Davis also declared that if the exigency arises, that he would use the police powers of the state to seize coal in transit within the state and to divert it to the use of the people of the state "should there be an attempt to discriminate against the public as a result of the measures to be called into action to compel a fair price." He asserted, however, that he hoped the use of such extreme powers would be unnecessary.

It is expected that the official call for the legislature to meet in special session will be sent out late today.

GOVERNMENT WILL ENFORCE THE LAW IN JUST MANNER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—While the Chicago injunction proceedings will be followed up with the determination of guaranteeing the country against interference with transportation, a high official of the administration declared today constitutional liberties of law-abiding men will not be abridged.

Just how far the government will be obliged to go with the prosecutions against individuals the administration spokesman said, can only be determined by events. It was indicated that no activities in connection with the strike outside of the court matters were now in progress.

President Harding is said to feel that the injunction sought will not in any way hamper or endanger constitutional rights of the men on strike or of other citizens and to consider the government's course entirely clear of complications which might justify any such charge.

Sent To Reform School

Leo Baisden, 16 years old, son of Mrs. Laura Church, 2021 Gallia street, was adjudged a delinquent at a hearing in juvenile court Tuesday and Judge Gilliland ordered him committed to the Lancaster reform school.

The youth, who has been in trouble before, was caught by the police and brought into court for driving Allen Davis' Ford automobile without the owner's consent. The youth admitted taking the car from in front of the railroad Y. M. C. A. Sunday night, where it had been parked by the owner, returning the car after an absence of four hours. Mr. Davis told the court that the machine was slightly damaged by the youth.

In passing sentence Judge Gilliland indicated that he proposes to deal more rigidly with auto offenders that come before him in the future.

Dispute Over Boy

Judge Gilliland was called upon Tuesday to settle a dispute between two sisters, Mrs. Fred Suter, 2414 Gallia street, and Mrs. Rosa Myers, 112 Court street, over the possession of the latter's son, Lawrence Myers, 6 years old.

It developed during the hearing that the boy had lived with his aunt, Mrs. Suter, from infancy and only went to his mother last July when the court entered an order giving the mother the custody of the child during the vacation period each year and the aunt to have him the remainder of the time.

After hearing from both sides the matter was finally amicably adjusted by giving the child to the aunt pending a further hearing. The mother claims that she has now established a home and contends that in all fairness she should have the companionship and association of her child. She is represented by Attorneys B. F. Kimble and T. C. Reatr.

Enameling Plant Nearing Completion; Stove Plant Resumes Work Wednesday

The five story reinforced concrete structure which the Ferro Concrete Construction Co., is erecting for The Portsmouth Stove & Range Co., is rapidly nearing completion. The fifth floor will be ready to finish this week with a good part of the brick work already completed. The porcelain enameling plant is also under construction and will be ready to turn out enamel in two weeks. The company expects to have everything ready to operate by October 15th, and this plant will undoubtedly be one of the most up-to-date and best equipped porcelain enameling plants in the country.

Mr. H. W. C. Mehlberg, of St. Louis, will be superintendent of the new plant, and is now here installing the equipment. Mr. Mehlberg has had long experience in porcelain enameling and built the first electric enameling plant for commercial use, which proved very successful. The company reports a very bright outlook for the new department and have enough orders on hand to keep it working at capacity throughout this year.

The stove plant, which has been closed down to build new additions to their foundry and to make several other improvements, will resume operations in all departments, September 6th. Their foundry is now provided with concrete charging platforms, and larger quarters, and will also install shower baths and locker rooms for the comfort and convenience of their employees.

With the new additions and equipment, the company will manufacture from the raw materials 98 per cent of all parts used in building Equity ranges.

Turn Down Canning Plant

The proposed Lucasville Canning Factory project has been turned down by the Chamber of Commerce of that village because of the large requirements of the promoters. The promoters, who are located in Chillicothe, visited Lucasville several times the past two weeks in an effort to establish a plant in that village, but their demands were considered too great.

Jackson Horseshoe Pitchers Beaten

One of the fastest matches of horseshoes ever seen in the city was played yesterday morning when Jackson was swept down to defeat after a hard, losing battle, by a picked team of members from the local horseshoe league, winning 35-13, at Mound Park.

Some of the matches were won by the narrowest margins and excitement was well sustained throughout by the several hundred men and women who gathered to see by far the best match this season. Jackson has certainly improved since Portsmouth played Jackson at Jackson, and the work of her team showed it.

The heavy rains served to settle the dirt around the pegs, putting the courts in excellent condition, and no time was lost digging for shoes.

The games by rounds:

Round 1
Craig and Doll of Portsmouth, lost their first games, two out three to Garrett and Lyons of Jackson. Garrett led in ringers, having to his credit 16; Doll followed with 15; Craig with 14, and Lyons with 13.

Hughes and Kitchen of Portsmouth, won two out of three from Arthurs and Farar of Jackson. Hughes had 15 ringers; Arthurs 12, and Kitchen 9. Hughes opened with few ringers but beat a strong come-back in the last game with 9 ringers.

Kellogg and Hess of Jackson gave J. Sparks and Dodge a run for their money, defeating them two out of three. Kellogg was high man with 10 ringers, Dodge following with 14, and J. Sparks with 12.

J. Massie and W. Mitchell of Portsmouth, won two of three games against Keller and "Doc" White of Jackson. Mitchell was high man with 13 ringers; Kellogg following with 12, Massie with 11, and White with 9.

Round 2
Craig and Doll reversed their defeat in the second round and won two out of three from Hess and Kellogg. Craig and Hess tied on ringers, each winning 13, Doll following with 12, and Kellogg dropping to 8.

Hughes and Kitchen won three straight from Garrett and Lyons with Hughes leading in ringers, with a total of 16; Garrett with 11.

Sparks and Dodge won two out of three from Keller and White in three close matches, with the Jackson men putting up such a stiff fight that the game was won by only one point. But Sparks and Dodge played good horseshoes although the honors in ringers went to Keller with 13; Doll and Sparks tied in second place with 12 apiece.

Round 3
Craig and Doll got down to real work in the third round and won three straight from Farar and Arthurs. Craig was high man with 11 ringers; Doll followed with 10, and Farar and Arthurs dropped to 7 and 6, respectively.

Hughes and Kitchen did not play in such luck and won only one out of three from Hess and Kellogg. Kellogg was high man in ringers, making 16 to his credit, with Hughes right behind with 15; Kitchen made 8, and Hess 3.

J. Sparks and Dodge were on their mettle and won three straight from Farar and Garrett. Garrett and Sparks tied for first place with 14 ringers each; Dodge behind with 13, and Farar low man with 5.

J. Massie and Mitchell made a clean sweep of three games against Farar and Arthurs. Mitchell led with 14 ringers; Farar got 9, and Arthurs, 7.

Round 4
Craig and Doll lost two out of three to White and Keller. Keller high man with 13 ringers; Craig and Doll 11 apiece, and White low man with 6.

Hughes and Kitchen won another three straight, this time to Kellogg and Booth, later replaced by J. Hess. Kellogg was high man with 18 ringers; Hughes following with 16; Kitchen with 9, and Booth with 4.

Sparks and Dodge won three straight from Masters and Farar. Sparks and Dodge each made 10 ringers. Farar made 3, and Masters was off his luck.

J. Massie and W. Mitchell won three straight from Lyons and Garrett. Massie and Mitchell were tied for first place in ringers, each scoring 14; Garrett got 8, and Lyons 7.

W. Massie and W. Mitchell won two out of three against Kellogg and Hess. Massie led with 19 ringers; Kellogg followed with 16 and Hess got 14.

The summary of the total number of ringers made by Portsmouth are as follows: Hughes, 62; Mitchell, 53; J. Massie, 54; Craig and Dodge, 49;

Youth Says He Shot To Protect Mother; Pleads Not Guilty When Arraigned Today

Edward Lowe, 14 year old colored lad, pleaded not guilty to a charge of willful murder for the killing of Roy "Duke" Kinney, 39 years old, also colored, when arraigned before Judge Gilliland in juvenile court Tuesday afternoon. The youthful prisoner was ordered held pending his hearing later in the week. The accused will be defended by Attorney Theo. K. Funk, who indicated that the defense will rely on the claim that the killing was wholly justified.

The killing occurred in an alley in the vicinity of Fifteenth and Walker streets shortly after four o'clock Sunday afternoon when young Lowe shot Kinney in the neck while the latter was in the act, it is claimed, of assaulting his (Lowe's) mother, Zella Hollingsworth Woods. The bullet struck Kinney in a vital spot and he succumbed to the wound a few minutes later.

The youth clings to the story he told the officers a short time after his arrest "that he fired the fatal shot in order to protect mamma as Kinney had threatened many times to kill her and I feared he would carry out his threat."

The police investigation disclosed that five shots were fired by the youthful gun user, four of which went wide and the fifth lodged in Kinney's neck.

Chief J. S. Distel and Officer Schroeder responded to a call and reached the scene of the shooting before the victim died. They took both the boy and his mother into custody but the latter was released yesterday and no charge will be pressed against her, it is said.

Prosecutor Sheppard signed the complaint against young Lowe Tuesday charging him with murder in the second degree and he will represent the state at the hearing.

Judge Gilliland stated Tuesday that by reason of the defendant's age he could not be held for grand jury action and that the maximum penalty that the juvenile court could impose in event the facts warranted was to order the lad committed to the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster.

Sitting on a stool in the juvenile ward of the county jail, the youthful gun user told his story.

He was extremely nervous and at times he choked, his voice filling with the tragedy of the event.

"We were at my aunt Fronie's house (Mrs. Fronie Hollingsworth Brown) where we had been staying since Roy and mamma (Mrs. Zella Hollingsworth Woods) were released from jail Friday night. The police brought mamma out to aunt Fronie's so Roy wouldn't know where she was.

"Sunday morning he found out where mamma was, and he came there. There were a number of men and women around the house, and we were scared of Roy.

"He tried to get her to go over to her house with him alone, and he tried to get her to go up stairs with him alone. I knew he would kill her if he got the chance.

"He started up stairs with his hand in his shirt like he was going to get a gun, and mamma started out the door and up the alley.

"Then Roy followed her. 'I went to the dresser drawer where I knew they kept a gun, and got it. I wanted to protect mamma, so I followed them.

"First he would go towards mamma, then turn and come towards me, then he would go back towards mamma, and then turn again and come at me.

"I don't know how many times I shot. I think twice.

"I saw him going at mamma and I lost control of myself.

"I fired the gun.

"Then he fell.

"Mamma took me into the house and washed my face in cold water, then

"They told me he was dead.

"And the police came and took us away.

"That's all I know about it, except that he was always abusing mamma and me.

"He had cut her with a razor lots of times, and tried to cut her throat once.

"I did it to protect mamma."

"The statement made to the officers by Mrs. Woods fully corroborated the story of the trouble told by her son.

In her recital she discussed in detail the incidents which led up to the tragedy in this way:

The Lad's Mother's Story

Mrs. Zella Hollingsworth Woods, mother of the Lowe boy, sitting in the corridor of the Woman's Ward of the city prison, where she is being held by the police because of what they believe is high feeling which might be dangerous to her, in the North End among some of Kinney's friends and relatives, sobbed out her story to a Morning Star reporter shortly after the killing.

"I have been trying to keep Roy away from me. Oh! If he had only stayed away my boy wouldn't be in jail! I'm worrying about my boy. He did it to protect me.

"Roy came to Fronie's Sunday looking for trouble.

"He threatened to kill me, and he wanted to take me away by myself. He had his hand in his shirt. I thought he had a gun. I was afraid of him.

"When I told him I didn't want to talk to him, he pulled me down on to his lap and he said: 'You ain't goin' to talk to me, huh? You're goin' to talk to me, or I'll kill you.' 'I said, 'What did you say?' 'He said, again, 'You talk to me, or I'll kill you.'

"I had my gun and I gave it to Edward and told him to put it away. Instead of putting it away, I guess Roy kept it.

"I ran out of the kitchen into the alley. Roy followed me and tried to catch me. Edward followed him with the gun.

"When I turned around I saw Roy trying to take the gun away from Edward. I ran back.

"Edward pulled away and shot. I think he shot four times.

"Roy fell.

"Oh, My God! Look at him! Edward cried.

"I took Edward in the house and washed his face.

"Someone cried 'Roy is dead.'

"Then the police came.

Tried To Prevent Trouble

"Earlier in the afternoon I tried to prevent the trouble I feared was brewing. I asked one of our neighbors to call the police. She didn't do it," continued Mrs. Woods.

"Roy was under peace bond," she said, "and the police have been trying to keep him away from me for a long time. That's why they brought me to my sister's when I was released from jail last Friday night."

The body of the victim was taken to the Lynn morgue where it was prepared for burial after being examined by Coroner J. D. Hendrickson. The remains were later removed to the home of his mother, Mrs. George Smith, 1224 Kinney street from where the funeral was held. Burial was in Greenlawn cemetery.

Kinney is survived by his mother besides his step-father and a half-brother, Anthony Smith.

Kinney Had Prison Record

Kinney had a penitentiary record, and he was under indictment at the time of his death for cutting Mrs. Woods.

It was he who told on Prisoner Loren Mershon and others who attempted a jail delivery last winter at the county jail, for "tipping off" the affair to the sheriff, he was released and the indictment ignored.

Friday night he was arrested again, with the Woods woman. Kinney claimed she shot at him.

She claimed that he shot at her twice.

Both were to have been given hearings in Municipal Court this afternoon.

Inquest Held

After the body had been taken to the Lynn morgue, Dr. J. D. Hendrickson, the county coroner, and Dr. W. A. Quinn, held a post mortem examination.

They found that the bullet, a .32 caliber, pierced the jugular vein and that the man bled to death as a result of the shot.

North End Excited

The North End in the vicinity of the scene of the killing was stirred by excitement Sunday evening. The screams of women; the anguished cry of the youthful slayer; the wails of the excited neighborhood; the hurly and scurry of the neighborhood; the rush of the police; the rumble of many automobiles; the clang of the ambulance bell; all blended into an atmosphere of the wildest excitement.

Rumors had wings, and reports varied concerning the affair, and it was not until the quiet, determined, fact-gleaning official investigation had gathered the facts that the excitement finally quieted down.

Victim Born Here

The victim was born and reared in Portsmouth, and was widely known throughout the North End and the entire city. He was an employee of the American Railway Express Co.

The youthful gun user and his mother were both born here. Mrs. Woods and Kinney were schoolmates and had been sweethearts.

Edward Lowe, the youth charged with the killing, is enrolled in the Seventh Grade of the Eleventh street school, of which Mr. E. M. Gentry is the teacher.

Police Feared Trouble

Police officials, following the arrest of the couple Friday night, feared trouble, they said last evening, and warned Kinney to stay away from Mrs. Woods and her family.

"This he promised to do, they say, and it is to his disobedience of their order that the officials lay the killing.

Historical Tree Blown Down

GREENUP, Ky., Sept. 5.—During the electrical storm Saturday afternoon the large tree which stood near Riggs' home in the lower end of Main street, was blown down. The tree was planted in the year of 1890, making it 32 years old. Mrs. Hurn, then of Wheelstone, and grandmother of Thomas Hurn, of Greenup, planted a riding switch which grew to be one of the largest trees in this vicinity.

The residence of Aunt Kitty Riggs was somewhat damaged. The Riggs home is a very historical structure as in its former days it was an old war supply boat during the Civil War, which was in command of General Humphrey Marshall. Southern general, and later captured by Gen. Garfield, Northern general, who brought it from the waters of the Big Sandy down the Ohio river to the present location.

Mrs. Hughes is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Morgan, born and reared on her parents' farm, a short distance above town. She was educated in the public schools at this place and was a graduate of the local high school. W. H. STATEN FOUND WITH PART OF HEAD SHOT OFF

Coroner Believes New Boston Man Ended Own Life; Analysis Of Stomach Sent To Columbus

A load of shot from a single barrel shot gun that tore off the top part of his head was the means employed by William H. Staten, well known resident of New Boston to take his own life sometime during the night. His lifeless body was found this morning in a two room frame shack in the rear of the Staten home, 3517 Rhodes avenue, New Boston. Two empty shells were found along with the empty shot gun which lay across the dead man's lap. There is a hole in the roof to show the course of one shot but there is no hole in the room to show where the second shot lodged.

On account of Mr. Staten making statements yesterday that neighbors had been trying to poison him Coroner J. D. Hendrickson, this morning removed the man's stomach and sent it to Columbus for analysis by state chemists. He will not render his verdict until he hears from the examination of the stomach.

but said today that it appeared to be a plain case of suicide surrounded by peculiar facts. The most peculiar fact is the finding of two empty shot gun shells and a single barrel shot gun. It is the belief of neighbors that Mr. Staten was so intent on taking his own life that when he missed the first time he fired again.

The first shot, they say, is the one that probably made the hole in the roof.

Mr. Staten had been despondent over family troubles for about a year. His condition has been worse of late. The lifeless form sitting in a chair was found this morning between 5:30 and 6 o'clock by Chester Staten, eldest son of the dead man. Chester Staten moved to the Staten home 3517 Rhodes avenue, about two weeks ago and had been caring for his father and the property. The time in the two room shack on the rear of the lot, Chester had been going to the shack early each morning and looking in to see if his father was all right for he was about 60 years of age. This morning when he looked through a window he saw his father's dead body in the chair with the shot gun across his lap. He did not go into the room but notified the coroner at once.

William H. Staten had been a resident of New-Boston for about twenty years, moving to that village from Brown county. He had been employed as labor foreman at the steel plant until one year ago when his health began to fail.

About a year ago his wife, Mrs. Minta Staten made an unsuccessful attempt to take her own life, domestic trouble prompting her act. Since that time the husband and wife have been separated. She is living with a daughter in New Boston.

Staten is survived by his widow, Mrs. Minta Staten and three children, Chester of Rhodes avenue, Mrs. Verna Willis of Cedar street, and Ralph of Cedar street.

Government

out of arrests for alleged violations of the writ, occupied the foreground of the picture of the nation's industrial situation today.

Speaking at Philadelphia, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor reiterated his charge that the injunction was a violation of the constitution and the laws of the land.

Members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor were gathering at Atlantic City today.

While union leaders were discussing the Daugherty injunction other speakers dealt with the industrial situation in another light. Notable examples of these were the speeches of Secretary of Labor Davis at Mooseheart, Illinois, and Edward J. Brundage, attorney general of Illinois, at a gathering of Chicago Republicans.

Secretary Davis declared "no giblet can be built too high for those who execute such dastardly deeds as the deliberate wrecking of a train at Gary. A way will be found, he said, to settle industrial disputes without force. Labor, he declared, had successfully resisted attempts to lower wages and a continuation of high wage levels would bring prosperity."

Despite the general quietude of Labor Day the holiday period was not without its contributions to the growing list of outbreaks incident to the railway shopmen's strike.

At Ardmore, Okla., inspectors were investigating what Santa Fe railroad officials said was an attempt to wreck a passenger train bound from Kansas City to Galveston. The engineer reported that he found an open switch with the signal lights broken off.

Nineteen freight cars were burned in the yards of the Great Northern system at Great Falls, Mont. Eight hundred cars were endangered by the blaze which broke out simultaneously in five different places. Arrests included those of John Astecklein, acting chairman of the shop crafts federation at Needles, Calif., and Jacob Cohen, editor and publisher of the Labor Review at Memphis, Tenn., charged with violating federal injunctions.

Miss Jeanette Rankin, of Montana, the first woman to sit in congress, declared in a speech at Peoria, Ill., that the wives of union men should participate with their husbands in the conduct of union affairs.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 5.—President Samuel Gompers, of the A. F. of L., in a Labor Day address, said that the injunction issued against the railroad shopmen last week was a violation of the constitution and the laws of the land. He characterized the action of the Attorney General as "exercising a power never dreamed of in the history of the nation."

The veteran labor chief said the injunction was wrong in principle and in fact, and was a confession that the shopmen have nearly won their strike. He urged that the unions furnish money to support the women and children of the men on strike.

"The men must fight and take care of themselves," he declared.

President Harding and Attorney General Daugherty were criticized by Mr. Gompers for issuance of the injunction and he asserted that both had advocated legislation to bring about "compulsory labor." The party of Lincoln which freed the slaves, said Mr. Gompers, is now trying to force compulsory labor on the whites and blacks.

Mr. Gompers spoke under the auspices of the Central Labor Union of Philadelphia at Point Breeze Park. Frequent heavy showers broke up the afternoon program of the union's outing and it was late in the day when Mr. Gompers began his speech, which was interrupted by showers and several times by interrogators in the closely packed pavilion where he spoke.

In introducing the labor president, John A. Voll, International President of the Glass Bottle Blowers' Union, said that according to Washington dispatches, labor leaders have been admonished to speak carefully "or the goblins will get them."

He declared that the open shop is dead "despite the efforts of the administration to rescue it from oblivion."

A Message Of Hope

Telling his hearers that he came to Philadelphia to deliver a message of hope and encouragement to men and women who believe in freedom, justice and democracy, Mr. Gompers declared that the present is the time when organized labor must more firmly resolve to stand for the Declaration of Independence, and the Constitutional guarantees. "In view of existing conditions and circumstances," said the veteran labor president, now is the time that tries men's souls to overcome tyranny and injustice and to maintain the fundamental principles of America.

"We are not going to have company unions if we can help it, and we can help it."

Low Wage Tide Stopped

Taking up the course of the shopmen, he said the spirit of real America was exemplified by these workers and brought cheers from the rain-soaked crowd when he declared that the "tide of lower wages was stopped and we are on the road to a better day."

He mentioned the fact that there have been disturbances and that strikers had been accused. "They are not interfering with the operation of the roads," he declared.

"Let the railroad employers operate them."

"Compulsory Labor"

Mr. Gompers asserted that Mr. Harding as Senator and President, and Attorney General Daugherty both advocated legislation that meant "compulsory labor." Despite the President's appeal to Congress on August 18, he declared, to put "teeth" in the labor law, Congress has so far refused to do so and Mr. Daugherty resorted to the injunction, more forcing than any legislation. In doing this, Mr. Gompers asserted that he was "exercising a power never dreamed of in the history of the republic."

BOY DROWNS NEAR JACKSON

JACKSON, Sept. 5.—One of the saddest of accidents occurred on Sunday morning, when Wilbur Henry Scott, a 14 year old boy, was drowned in a hole in an abandoned mine which had filled with water, on the farm of Mrs. William Parks, near Route 1, near Cove. He with three younger boys were in the pool and he in swimming across became fastened in the mud in the bottom and was drowned before he could be rescued. Wilbur was born on August 20, 1908, and was the son of James and Barbara Scott. One of the boys was his own brother. Burial took place on Tuesday at Pleasant Hill cemetery.

Professor Accuses His Wife In Fight For Morality And Home

SOUTH BEND, IND., Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Professor John T. Tiernan, instructor in the law department at the University of Notre Dame, was ready today to present proof of his charge that Harry Poulin, local clothing merchant, is the father of Mrs. Tiernan's infant son, born last November. Professor Tiernan obtained a warrant for the merchant's arrest last Saturday and a hearing has been arranged for this afternoon.

Professor Tiernan and his wife having lived together since the birth of the child have now effected a separation agreement by which he obtains custody of their two daughters, five and three years old. They will be sent to Chicago to reside with relatives pending disposition of the case against Poulin. Mrs. Tiernan will remain here until after the trial.

That the professor's charges are the aftermath of a blackmail plot which failed, is the contention of Poulin while the instructor declares that his fight "is for the integrity and morality of the home."

SOUTH BEND, IND., Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The disclosure of his wife's alleged romance, according to Professor Tiernan, resulted from a slight by Poulin to Mrs. Tiernan at church one Sunday, after the birth of the baby, now nine months old.

"It was in February of last year that my wife began to keep company with Poulin she told me in her confession," Prof. Tiernan said.

"From this point it is the old story of the unsophisticated girl from the little town of Bronzow, Michigan, who couldn't escape the lure of the charming young dandy of the city."

"My wife would leave her home and the youngsters as often as three nights a week."

"She said she was going shopping or to the movies."

"I never had any suspicion until last January, but Mrs. Poulin learned of the affair in August of last year."

"Mrs. Poulin had gone to Chicago to visit a sick sister, taking the two children with her. In the one week of Mrs. Poulin's absence, my wife has told me she visited the Poulin home three times. They made their great mistake by playing the phonograph. The neighbors knew that Mrs. Poulin was away and identified the woman in the house as my wife.

"Mrs. Poulin was duly informed on her return and when she confronted her husband with the story, he admitted his misconduct. That same day Mrs. Poulin called my wife, told her what she knew, and wrung from her a pledge of absolute silence."

"Every time my wife met Poulin on the street after the birth of the child, he always greeted her cheerily. But one Sunday morning, last January 8, my wife encountered him in church, recognized him as usual, but his attitude had changed. He refused to speak."

"She came home weeping and I began to question her. After a prolonged grilling, she told me all. I went to see Poulin the next day. He told me where he was. I did get to see him after that and frequently have tried to persuade him to assume the moral responsibility in the case."

"I didn't want to prosecute, and as late as one month ago, I called on Poulin at his office. His employers can verify that."

"I told him that for the sake of both families I was going to drop the matter and suffer the shame in silence for the rest of my days. He said that was just what I should do."

"When I went home and told my wife, she became enraged, at once called me a fool, and said that no man would let another get away with what he had. She kept urging me to prosecute and it is on her request that I am acting. If I am able to stand the ordeal, I will cross-examine all witnesses and especially Poulin himself, for I know him like a book."

The big room in the Blackstone was clearing as groups departed for the opera; the nearest tables all were deserted. Bennet paid his check and lit a cigar; he leaned easily upon the table.

"Do you know any one named Quinlan?" he asked.

"Old Jim Quinlan? Surely. Father used to have him about the month since cards for old time's sake."

"Why?"

who proved so competent that when Ethel left the house on Scott street that afternoon she had no idea whatever that she was followed.

"Started work 2:15 p. m. opposite —Scott street. Miss Ethel Carew left by front door 2:35." So read that portentous document, the confidential report which was supplied to Lucas early that evening.

CHAPTER XII

THE young man who called himself Barney Loutrelle, had never, for himself and upon his personal errand, entered such a home as that on Scott street.

Ethel, upon the floor above, had been ready for many minutes. She had seen Barney approaching the house; but she had waited for the servant to tell her that Mr. Loutrelle was in the parlor.

she's under her 'control.' Little Eva spoke that piece."

"Can you describe the man better now?" Barney inquired of the medium writing his own question as he had recorded the others.

"He shows me a capital Q," the voice of "Eva" continued strongly and distinctly. "Now a J with it; the J is before the Q: J Q."

"Q?" Bennet challenged.

"The voice did not reply directly. 'Eva' feels like a blow in the breast; there is something from it. He does not know he is giving this. He has not done it on purpose; they have tried to make him forget that; but Eva gets it from him. 'I am happy,' he says. 'It is true. I am happy.' He can say that; but that is all now. He holds up in his hand a torch—a flaming torch. Associated with the torch is the word Galilee. The stranger man leads him away." The voice again ceased.

Ethel gazed at Barney who had stopped writing and turned to her but made no comment; Bennet waited silently; and Ethel knew that to both of them the reference to has been trying to come to you many times before; but there have been difficulties.

"What did he want to say?" Ethel demanded again.

"He builds up something; a letter; the voice continued. 'The letter L.'"

"What does that mean?"

"It is his name; no, he shakes his head. It is the name of a place; a city where something has happened."

"London?" Ethel put in again.

"Yes; London. He says it is the name of a person, too."

"What about that person?"

"He says important events will come; he wants to say, they are happening now with L. Now he is going to say another name."

Another is present. He is a brown-faced man with straight, black hair and an Indian—"

Barney put the next question in a strange word, and Ethel, glancing at his pad, saw that he wrote as his question:

"Ootchippen?"

"He nods yes," replied "Eva." "He was a Chippewa."

was afraid, too, I think, of Quinlan coming to him. But Quinlan doesn't seem to have gone to St. Florentine at all; he went to Resurrection Rock, and Kincheef found him there and killed him so that he could never speak to you again." Ethel recalled to herself suddenly. "And the device carved on the mantle in that room?" She did not need to mention whose room he was thinking if it, too.

"They were identical, Miss Carey," he said with a sudden emphasis which betrayed to her something of what he had put up within.

For a moment more Ethel stood, half with her eyes for him—for this boy from the Indian shack in the Chevreux woods finding, at last, something which traced to his ring, and to himself. Then her thoughts went to that photograph upstairs.

She went over with him in detail everything she had done since leaving him, including her call of that afternoon at Mrs. David's where, she reported she had made an appointment for a stunner.

She heard him and, without opening the front door, he heard her, and he heard the hour which Bennett dropped it to the floor and again with her.

"Hello!" he called before him, coming into the drawing-room; then, seeing Barney, he sprang about so challengingly.

"Mr. Loutrille, this is my cousin, Bennett Culley."

"Loutrille?" Bennett repeated faintly about to Barney again. "So you are Loutrille."

His explanation was so insulting that Ethel rejoiced that Barney offered to reply.

"What do you want here?" Bennett was demanding.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE

Ohio Wesleyan's Contribution to the Church

In Methodism, Ohio Wesleyan is aptly called "The Mother of Bishops". After Luccock and McCabe great men whose light still shines undimmed, come Bishops Anderson, Hoss, Hughes, McConnell, McDowell and Thirkfield. Three of her Presidents, Thompson, Bashford, and Welch, have been elevated to the episcopacy.

John R. Mott says that Ohio Wesleyan has sent out more missionaries than any other American co-educational school, yet only one-fifth of her students are preparing for religious work. The number of theological students furnished by the college is not surpassed by any other school.

These Christian characters have made the name of America blessed in the far corners of the Earth through the message of human sympathy they bore and the lives of service they lived.

YOUNG BRIDE

Here is one that can be made in a few minutes and they would melt in your mouth they are so good.

Cucumber Mustard Pickles—Put into a quart fruit jar, four tablespoons of sugar, two tablespoons each of salt and ground mustard (dry). Wash cucumbers and pack as many as possible into jar. Cucumbers should not be more than four inches long. Then fill up jar with cold vinegar, screw up airtight. After six weeks they are ready for the table and are delicious. These will keep for several years if kept in a cool place.

Dear Dolly—I want your advice on what to do. I am 21 years of age and my husband is twice as old. I got married when I was 17 and my husband was good to me then, but for the past two years he has treated me terrible. He doesn't want me to get any new clothes and if I buy any he just thinks it is terrible, and I never hear the end of it. He never gives me a good word only when some one is around. He is so mean that I haven't any love for him. We parted once for three months but he said he would treat me better and I went back to him, but he failed to keep his word and I am figuring on leaving him again if I can get

WASH AND STRING BEANS

Wash and string beans and slice lengthwise. Then boil for half an hour and put on cooking board or in a shallow vessel to cool, then they are ready to put in crock or jar. Put a layer of grape leaves in the bottom of jar and pack away the same as you would sour kraut. Press down tightly using salt to taste. If you like you can add some kind of flavoring. Let stand in a warm place until they ferment and then put a weight on them and they are ready for use. Don't get the idea they are spoiling when they begin to "work," even if they do have a disagreeable odor. You might scum off the top every so often until they look about right. Some souk beans until tender. The best time to pickle beans is about the middle of this month.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you give me a recipe for oily hair. Mine gets so greasy a few days after I wash it that I can't do a thing with it.

HILLTOP READER
This is an excellent recipe for oily hair. Two ounces of witchhazel, two ounces of alcohol, one ounce of distilled water and forty grains resorcin. Apply every night rubbing it thoroughly into the scalp. Do this for two weeks, then wash the hair with the following shampoo, and repeat until you get the desired results. One teaspoon of cologne, one teaspoonful or more of tincture of green soap, one teaspoon of borax and an egg.

Millikan and witnessed by members of the two families. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. Williams and his bride left on a wedding trip to Cleveland and other places of interest in the northern part of the state.

ALWAYS TIRED NO AMBITION

Nervous and Dizzy, Everything Seemed to Worry Me. How I Got Well

Larwill, Indiana.—"My back was so bad I could not do my washing. I was always tired out and had no ambition, was nervous and dizzy and everything seemed to worry me and I had awful pains in my right side. I felt badly about four years and could not do my work as it should have been done. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised so much and it did so many people good that I began to take it myself. I am feeling fine now and every one tells me they never saw me looking so well. I live on a farm, do all my work, and have three little girls to take care of. I am recommending this medicine to my friends and know it will help them if they use it like I do." —Mrs. BEATRICE LONG, R. 2, Box 7, Larwill, Indiana.

Many women keep about their work when it is a great effort. They are always tired out and have no ambition. When you are in this condition give it prompt attention. Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it is especially adapted to correct such troubles.

The doctor set his jaw but Armstrong did not recover consciousness for three hours, but was much better this morning. Hackworth was arrested but was released on bail. Much Damage Caused By Storm; Many Cellars, Streets Flooded

Portsmouth and vicinity were visited by one of the heaviest rainstorms in months Sunday morning, the rain falling Saturday and Sunday morning being 3.2 inches. It was accompanied by sharp lightning flashes and heavy thunder the storm lasting for some time.

Sewers in many parts of the city proved way too small to carry off the large volume of water and the result was flooded streets and then flooded cellars and basements.

Two business firms to suffer damage were the Mitchell Manufacturing company at Eighth and Adams streets and the Bierley and Yeley at Sixth and Offshore streets, while one home that of Abe Mayer Fourth and Bond streets was also flooded.

On Eighth street between Brown and Adams and at the foot of Prospect and Murray water was several feet deep. Water rushed into the basement of the Mitchell plant and within 45 minutes the basement was flooded. Raw material for shoe strings and underwear was stored in the basement and water damaged most of this stock and causing the firm a substantial loss.

According to residents of Eighth street near the Mitchell plant water at one time was three feet deep on Eighth street. One automobile containing a young man and a young woman became stalled in the water when it was up on the running board of the machine. The two young people remained in the machine probably thinking the water would go down immediately but instead it kept on rising and within a few minutes was several inches over the floor of the machine. The young man then played the role of a hero and carried the young woman to a high and dry spot.

Many cellars in this neighborhood were also flooded.

One of the fire trucks was taken to the Mitchell basement Sunday morning and water was pumped from the basement.

At Sixth and Offshore streets water stood about two feet deep on the street and flooded the basement of the Bierley and Yeley plant. That firm also had material such as soda, salt and other things used in clothes coloring and cleaning in the basement and they were damaged causing a small loss. The basement of the Donaldson apartment building across the street from the Bierley and Yeley plant also had some water in it.

At Fourth and Bond streets, water flooded the sidewalks and was soon on the first floor of the Abe Mayer home on the northeast corner. The basement filled rapidly and was over the first floor before carpets could be taken up.

Other streets flooded included Galbraith at Mabert Road, Ninth and Grimes avenue, Third and Chillicothe, Eleventh, Baird avenue and Fifteenth.

The Distinguished New Fall Fashions

can be seen NOW at Marting's. The store you have learned to recognize as having the new styles first—in showing the styles of tomorrow before you grow weary of the styles of today, and in showing the styles that are as practical as they are new.

THE NEW SILHOUETTE makes one very tall, very straight, and very slim—though this slimness may be considerably modified soon, for many of the new skirts insist on being draped. Some of them hint of considerable fullness. The skirts are from five to seven inches from the ground.

SUITS have long, long jackets, or else they are of the three-piece variety, with Canton crepe blouses. Most of the skirts are draped, and the suits are often beautifully fur-trimmed.

COATS are also straight of line—although the wrap models are somewhat widened at the waist. Many fur collars are of the choked variety. Squirrel, beaver, fitch, fox, mole and monkey are the favorites.

BLOUSES still have the overblouse tendency. Some smock themselves and adopt full sleeves to show their Russian inspiration. They may be of hip-length and worn with a separate belt, or finished with a close-fitting section at the hip with fullness above.

DRESSES insist on the low waistline, in spite of the fact that Paris has returned to the normal waistline. Trimming, designing—all add to the impression of height. They are talking of the circular skirt, and Marting's shows a few. The draped skirts on many of the dresses give some of the impression of height. You'll notice tight sleeves, and short sleeves with drapings.

Senator Sutherland To Be Associate Justice

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Retirement from the supreme court bench is under consideration by Associate Justice Wm. R. Day, it was officially stated today at the White House, but Mr. Day is not expected to announce his decision until he has determined to what extent his duties as umpire of the German-American claims commission would interfere with his work as a member of the court.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding today sent to the senate the nomination of former Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, to be associate justice of the United States supreme court, succeeding Associate Justice

Clarke, who resigned, effective Sept. 18.

The senate within ten minutes after the name was received, confirmed the nomination in open executive session and without the usual reference to a committee.

A desire to serve his neighbors and "some cause" in ways which would not be performed while holding office was given in a letter to the President as the impelling reason for Mr. Sutherland leaving the bench. A retirement from public life at 65, he added, would conform to his "philosophy of life."

Senator Sutherland, who has been selected for the vacancy is sixty years old. He was born in Buckingham, England, 1862.

He served in Utah's first State Senate, and was a delegate from that state to each Republican national convention from 1896 to 1920.

daughter, Mrs. Ralph Wright.

The little daughter born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wright has been named Roberta.

Mr. W. T. Engelson has resigned his position at Dam 27, Guyandotte, and has accepted a position with the Dravo Construction Co. at Vandalia and will leave this week for there.

Mrs. Tom Gussler who is ill with quinsy is getting along nicely.

Mrs. J. R. Ragan entertained at 12 o'clock dinner yesterday the following: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swender, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ashire and William Ashire of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. James Ragan of Cornington, and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Haggard of Wheelersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mahaffey and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Manly of Columbus spent the week end with relatives at the Hartman house.

Miss Mabel Towner of Huntington, W. Va., is the guest of Mrs. Albert Hillard.

The Baptist church will entertain with a picnic supper Thursday evening on the church lawn. The supper is free.

The speakers during the afternoon will be Rev. Stewart Tibbs of Portsmouth and Rev. Joseph Rhines of Ironton. There will also be special music and a most enjoyable afternoon is anticipated. Everyone is welcome.

We have a complete line of all the needs of the children for school—pencils, pencil boxes, and the right kind of tablets—for less money than anybody. Central 50 and 51-00 Store, Eleventh and Offene streets.

Mr. Sutherland was twice elected to the United States Senate, his service lasting from 1905 to 1917. He was defeated for re-election in 1916 by Senator King, the present junior member from Utah. Subsequently he was called upon by the present administration in an advisory capacity on several occasions. He recently represented the United States in negotiations with Norway on war claims.

Justice Clarke was nominated to the Supreme Court bench by President Wilson in 1916 and in point of service is the junior Associate Justice.

He is a life-long Democrat and was associated in politics in Ohio with Tom Johnson and Newton D. Baker Secretary of War under President Wilson. In 1913 he was defeated for the Senate by Marcus A. Hanna.

In the campaign for Democratic nomination for same position in 1914 he said he had "favored progressive measures when it was far from popular to do so, and was almost mobbed for doing so."

BLAIR AND KEARNEY STAGE TAME TEN ROUND DRAW; FIGHT DISPLEASES LARGE CROWD

Kearney Kept Away From Blair; Burt Loses Scrap

Fight fans from this man's town who journeyed to Ashland Labor Day for a feast when Mike Kearney of Huntington and Nig Blair of Portsmouth entered the same ring to settle the much mooted question as to who was the better man were greatly disappointed. Neither boxer showed any brilliant flashes and there were very few rallies to enthrall the 2,000 fans who witnessed the mill.

Portsmouth fans insist that Kearney kept away from Blair at all stages and refused to take the scratch. They say Blair was willing and ready at all times, but after Mike stopped a few of Nig's punches he elected to do a one-stop rather than fight. The Portsmouth fanthus was in great spirit and smiled all through the battle. Several times he stood in the middle of the ring and implored Kearney to fight but the Huntington man, who evidently was bent on staying ten rounds did so, thanks to his clever sprinting ability.

There was too much hugging and clinching for the crowd and they bowed their disapproval on a number of occasions.

Blair was in the best condition of his career and at the start of the tenth round said he felt like fighting ten more if necessary. He showed wonderful footwork and side stepping and long before the first round was over Kearney knew he was in for a strenuous afternoon, playing the old "safety first" from then on.

In the second round Nig landed on Mike's huckle with sufficient force to keep the Irishman's face looking like a cracked cat's paw through the encounter. Kearney's right eye took on monstrous and his map after the fight would not take any prizes from Wallie Reed. Nig's only damage was a slight cut over the left eye, which occurred in the last half minute of the tenth round. The local boxer never felt better in his life and upon scores of occasions tried to get Mike to mix it up, but with no success.

Kearney was eager to clinch at every opportunity and at no time did he venture to swap punches with Nig. In every round Nig chased Mike around the ring and did practically all of the leading. Kearney was apparently quite a disappointment to his fellow townsmen, as on many occasions they were prone to use some very unbecoming remarks as to their opinion of Mike's clinching style.

To be fair, Mike really won the seventh round, but not to an extent that worried Nig in the least. He landed a hard blow on Nig's wind, but the latter quickly recovered and was as good as ever in the eighth. Blair easily had five rounds by a safe margin and completely outboxed as well as outpointed his more experienced opponent.

It can be said that both boys fought clean and showed considerable pep throughout, considering that they fought inside where there was little or no ventilation and with a terrible sun beating down upon the roof. In summarizing the match, Nig had a wide margin throughout 5 rounds, and held his opponent even during four, losing the seventh.

Blair was entitled to the decision, were one permissible in Kentucky. He was the aggressor throughout and landed the cleanest and hardest blows and his willingness to mix at all times easily won the verdict.

The gate receipts were almost $200 of which Blair received 25 per cent. Nig will again go in training the middle of the week for his ten round go with Young Webb of Chillicothe September 20.

The preliminaries were exceptionally good and bristled with action in every round. Jimmy Perdue and Eddie Moore fought six rounds with Moore getting the edge.

Kid Smith won over Kid Layman by the knockout route. Hal Layman used more caution he would prob-

FRANCE AND FRANCS

THE continued decline of the value of the franc should be as much a matter of regret in America as it is a matter of deep concern in France. Paris has now seen the franc drop to less than eight cents in New York as compared with a parity of 19.3 cents. Depressing trade reports, showing that France is failing to export as much to the United States as she buys from it, are largely responsible for the continued decline.

The disaster to the French foreign trade, declares one of the leading commercial journals, "is due to the lack of a sound financial policy at home and of a real attempt at economic expansion abroad. It may be added that the situation is not without its political ramifications. The failure of France and her allies to agree upon harmonious policies for German stabilization has undoubtedly had an exceedingly depressing effect upon the exchange generally.

The careful reader will find a veritable textbook in international commerce, politics and finance in the day by day news from the European capitals and Washington. He cannot but be impressed by the outstanding fact of the interdependence of all nations. None is really independent, except in the strictest political sense. And again, the observer must be impressed with the powers of resistance of the great states under the most adverse circumstances. That Germany, for instance, can hold together her flimsy financial structure with the once proud mark quoted at 18 or 20 for a cent, is amazing. The interdependence of nations helps to explain it.

PASSION PLAY MAY GO

POPE PIUS may forbid future public presentations of the Passion Play at Oberammergau, it is said, because the competition of tourists has commercialized it. There will be disappointment among many who have planned, sometime, to make pious pilgrimage to the revered spectacle. There will be sorrow among all who have regarded Oberammergau as the abiding place of sincerity and simplicity.

Are the humble natives of Oberammergau to be blamed, or the flocks of curious tourists who have invaded their community? It matters not. What is of first importance is that the sublimity of the Passion Play shall be safeguarded from the lure of gold. If it becomes necessary, to do this, to forbid its view of laymen, the world will be the poorer. Curiosity will once again have driven spirituality into seclusion.

London-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The Agony Column in the London Times is an institution. It is read by the upper as well as the lower classes. It is the daily parade of a city's anguish. In the column, marked "Personal" on the first page the lovers, heart sick and discouraged announce their woes.

Here are some of the "personals" picked at random from an issue that is before me:

Per Bacco—Nothing but rust and dust. The don.

O Maiden, clearly we must wait two years. Courage: we shall come through safe. Scholasticus.

Golly Jerry, you looked like a regular Don Juan.—Pip.

Zoe—Think of it no more. Time heals everything.—Jem.

M.—Suis a toi t'jours, je te veux, je t'aime, je t'adore.—P. Darky.—Asleep?—Slinging.

Haman—The little bundle has vanquished.—O.

Tit-Willow—Wire before it is too late. Undying love. Hodgson.

Lal. Time is up. The last goes today. No hope. Hopeless.

Each personal in the American newspaper sense is a story. Many men have announced their suicidal intentions through the agony column. The cryptic messages are teeming with human interests. On the buses, in the cafes and homes the Times reader looks first at the agony columns.

The majority of the English newspapers, incidentally, are the half size picture papers. The news is abbreviated and there is more space devoted to racing than any other feature. Everybody plays the races. An Englishman tells me that in his office he has 118 clerks. Not one fails to place a bet on the races daily. It may be only a shilling, but they get their thrill just the same.

The newspapers come out with extras every afternoon announcing the winners. The big streamers herald: "First Winners" and office boys, clerks and tradesmen of all sorts rush out to buy.

The theatre customs here are interesting. The orchestra leaders do not stand while directing. They sit in high, comfortable chairs which seem quite sensible. The programs are not given away. They are sold by the girl ushers for a sixpence, and between acts the ushers also sell plates of ice cream from trays at a shilling a plate. Nearly all the women enter their stalls smoking. It is a custom to light a cigarette in the foyer. In the better class theatres they are very generous in their applause for American performers.

the deceased lady. Then, just as the singers were starting in on the last verse, the old man said to himself: "I declare, when you're lived with a woman fifty years, you kind o' git attached to 'er."

The choir broke down, but not with grief.

Explained

"What is your regular business?" asked the judge of the man who had just been convicted of selling a gold brick to an unsuspecting citizen of New York City, which is the only place they can be sold nowadays.

"Your honor," answered the man, "being honest is my regular trade, and I was on my vacation."

Must Be a Dachshund

Pat was the man who did all the odd jobs about the place, and, owing to petty thieving, his employer instructed him to get a good yard dog. Pat was out all day and in the evening landed home with a dachshund. "What on earth have you brought along, Pat?" queried his employer.

"Well, sir," said Pat, "he's the nearest I could get to a yard; he's two feet 11 inches long."

Logical

Near Bridgeport, Ill., west of Vincennes, is an oil field where the Illinois pipe line empties a large pool of crude petroleum.

The other day a man was seen sitting fishing in that oil pool.

"What you doing?" yelled the amazed attendant.

"Fishing," was the laconic reply.

"Did you ever, you dumb-bell, hear of catching fish in oil?"

"Dumb-bell yourself! Never hear of sardines?"

And the man went right on fishing.

Fatal Fire

Accidental

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Preliminary reports to the department of justice indicate that the fire which destroyed the bunk house of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Pittsburgh with a loss of seven lives was of accidental origin, according to officials of the department.

The county investigation into the fire got under way today, when Coroner W. J. McGregor visited the scene. The inquest, the coroner said, would be held Friday.

Coroner McGregor today called upon the railroad company to produce the man whose duty it is to inspect buildings in which employees are housed.

Reports that materials of highly inflammable nature were stored in the building where the newly employed workers were housed, will be an important point covered by his inquiry, the coroner said.

Bobbie Clark, who appeared at a burlesque house on Seventh Avenue, New York, is the bit of an American venue here. He is filling in time before returning to Manhattan to appear in the new Music Box Revue. He has the right idea. The stamp of London success means much in Gotham.

Doc Koko's KOLUM

On the Road to Romany
You have heard the far lands calling.
You are welded to the trail.
There's brine in your blood
When the tides are afloat—
And the trade winds are wooing the sail.

A star burns low in the westing.
It beckons you out of the night—
To the dream far away.
Where the typhoons at play
Kiss the billowing seas so white.

But under the arms of the sheltering oak
The rustic cottage stands—
And someone there sighs
When the dim light dies.
For the touch of the gypsy hands,

An old, old man who was the chief mourner, came and stood looking tearfully down at the still old face of

HOPE HARD COAL WILL BE DUG NEXT WEEK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Confidence that the agreement reached in Philadelphia Saturday night will be ratified by the anthracite miners' convention in Wilkesbarre was expressed today by Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, in a conference with President Harding. The production of hard coal will be well under way by the end of next week, Mr. Reed predicted.

Senator Reed said there undoubtedly would be some radical opposition to the settlement proposal but he was certain it would be approved by a wide margin.

During his talk with the president, the Pennsylvania senator reviewed the negotiations conducted by Senator Pepper, of Pennsylvania, and himself with representatives of the miners and operators which resulted in the tentative settlement, and gave Mr. Harding first hand information as to the present status of affairs in the anthracite fields. Nothing, he declared, has developed, which might block ratification of the agreement.

Development of a plan whereby "the voice of the public may be heard" in conflicts between employer and employee, such as in the coal situation was declared today by Secretary Hoover to be "one of the most vital issues before us."

Nearly all the more important mines have been supplied with empty cars, some loading of coal may be begun as soon as possible after the suspension is formally ended.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover was expected here either today or tomorrow to confer with operators and miners on the distribution and price control of anthracite supply.

Reports from the anthracite fields indicate that the vote will be in favor of ratification. In that even mining is expected to be resumed by next Monday.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Anthracite union leaders who have not already left Philadelphia today to go to Wilkesbarre today to prepare for the convention of delegates from the three districts of United Mine Workers in the hard coal regions. The convention which will open tomorrow afternoon, will vote upon ratification of the compromise proposals of United States Senators Pepper and Reed, of Pennsylvania, for ending the labor struggle which has kept the mines idle for more than five months. The plan, which called for operation of the mines at the wage scale in effect when the suspension began until August 31 of next year, already has been approved by the scale committee of the union.

Reports from the anthracite fields indicate that the vote will be in favor of ratification. In that even mining is expected to be resumed by next Monday.

HARDING AND CABINET CONSIDER FUEL SUPPLY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding and the cabinet today are considering the fuel supply situation, it was stated by a high official after the regular session with a view to developing lines of inquiry that may be taken up by the coal commission now contemplated as an organization to deal with the aftermath of the prolonged bituminous strike and anthracite work suspension.

The cabinet was not so much concerned, it was indicated, with the immediate details of fuel supply as they are with the possible conservation in coal use that may be brought about in the future. The top yesterday, it was indicated, would be suggested to the commission in an official fashion.

Attorney General Daugherty, who returned to Washington today in time to attend the cabinet session, refused to comment on the situation relative to the injunction or to indicate the extent to which his department is prepared to push prosecution of those who are charged with violating its provisions.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Coal loadings Sept. 1, totalled 26,826 cars, according to reports received from the rail carriers of the country by the Association of Railway Executives. This was a reduction of 2,201 cars from the preceding day, but represented an increase of 2,260 cars over the average daily loading for September last year and was 0.762 cars above the average daily loadings in August, 1922.

Seeks To Identify Body Of Little Girl

KANSAS CITY, MO., Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The body of a girl, apparently about 12 years old, found late yesterday tied in a gunny sack and floating in the Mississippi river near here was the subject of a searching police inquiry today. The body was clad only in a blue gingham dress and wrapped in a gray blanket and had no marks of identification according to S. E. Edwards, deputy coroner.

Her skull was fractured and the nose crushed.

The police questioned two women and a man who admitted having been out on an automobile party the night of August 24, but thus far no connection has been established between them and the death of the girl. The body was found by fishermen.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—An officer of the government who issues or causes to be issued "any illegal injunction, not in good faith and with the willful intent" of depriving a person of his rights or intimidating him, would be held to have committed malfeasance in office under a bill introduced today by Representative Huddleston, Democrat, Alabama.

The bill would also hold any government officer to have committed malfeasance in office "who under color or by means of his office authorizes shall willfully deprive or attempt to deprive any publication of his lawful freedom of speech."

Upon conviction, the officer would be removed from office and be subject to a fine of $10,000 or to imprisonment not exceeding two years.
